Background Story

Beastmen are half-man / half-animal creatures that rely on ambush strategies to quickly overwhelm their enemy and stomp them to the ground. Their ranks are made up of a variety of strange creatures such as centaurs and minotaurs whose stampedes are feared amongst humans.

Whilst the most common Beastmen are goat-like and come from the forest, there are many different types of Beastmen that can be found across Tyria. For example bird-like clans can be found to the far east, whilst cat-like creatures have been spotted in the most ancient savannah's of the south.

Legend says that ancient human wizards were banished from humanity for the use of dark arts, and they retreated into the deepest forests where they plotted their revenge. Then they created the Beastmen in order to raze human cities and take back the land that was rightfully theirs.

Since nobody ever lived long enough to survive a Beastmen ambush there is no way of telling how much of this is true...
